From our Spiritual Director, Rev. Dr. Ann Hagmann: As I took advantage of the unseasonably warm weather today and gardened, I thought about Jesus' teaching on different soils (Mark 4). He spoke of seed sown on the path where birds ate it up, on rock soil that produced little root, among thorns that choked it out, and on good soil that yields 30-60-100 fold harvest. Each of us may have different soils in different parts of ourselves or at different times in our lives. The important thing is to try to cultivate a good soil receptive to God's word or call. No matter how limited we are, God can still use us to touch others.

Hope to see you cultivating your soil at the next Gathering February 17th, at St. John's.

DeColores! Ann Hagmann
